Software Engineer

Coinomi

- Developed, tested and implemented new features for the Android application by using Java for Android App Development.
- Facilitated a big refactor of the Desktop application, by fixing a lot of issues and implementing new features in Java, JavaScript, HTML/CSS and Vue.js, that subsequently led to a more than 100% increase of our active users in Desktop platforms.
- Participated in designing new features for Coinomi's applications.
- Designed and developed an open-source transaction decoder tool, that decodes transaction-related information from transaction's raw bytes for more than 50 cryptocurrencies by utilizing JavaScript and multiple crypto libraries.
- Collaborated with DevOps to build APIs, built and deployed servers by utilizing Docker and Ansible in Ubuntu.
- Constructed a detailed technical documentation for Coinomi's codebase with instructions on how to execute a specific procedure (such as releasing a new version of the application in all platforms)
- Led Coinomi's technical department for 3 months due to team restructuring, the transition was smooth and managed to roll-out a new release in all platforms where a lot of issues had been fixed and new features had been introduced.
